BEEF TRUST CALLED TO A SUDDEN HALT.

Supreme Court Holds It to Be An Unlawful Combination.

OPINION IS UNANIMOUS.

First Great Victory For The People in The War Against Trusts.

Washington, Jan. 31.—The Supreme Court of the United States yesterday decided the case of the United States vs. Swift & Co., known as the Beef Trust case, charging conspiracy among the packers to fix prices on fresh meats, etc. The opinion was handed down by Justice Holmes and affirmed the decision of the court below, which was against the packers.

In his opinion Justice Holmes discussed at length the various contentions of the packers and disposed of them individually. He admitted that some of the charges were less specific than desirable, but said this was necessarily true on account of the vast extent of the field covered. He added that sufficient cause had been shown to prove continued offenses and an offense of such a nature as to justify these proceedings.

The opinion continued the injunction granted against the packers under the Sherman anti-trust law by the lower courts. The opinion was concurred in by all the members of the court.

CONFLICTING CLAIMS

Russian Losses in Week's Fighting Put at 1,200

St. Petersburg, Feb. 1.—A message from Sachich, southeast of Mukden, states that the Japanese attack on Landeangon was repulsed, the Russians following up the reverse as the Japanese retired. When the Mikado's forces attacked they were met with an irresistible rain of shrapnel and rifle fire. The message adds that in the thousand of casualties in the Russian ranks from Wednesday to the end of the week the percentage of death was very small. Three hundred Japanese were made prisoners.

The Jap Claims.

London, Feb. 1.—Baron Hayashi, Japanese minister to England, has made public a dispatch from field Marshal Oyama giving additional details of the fighting southeast of Mukden. Oyama declares the number of Russians corpses left on the field since last Wednesday is not less than 1,200.

COURTS MARTIAL

To Investigate Rumpuses In the State Guards.

Adj.-Gen. Haley has ordered a court-martial to be held at Shelbyville on Monday, February 6 for the trial of Capt. R. A. Burton, of the company located at that place. The charges allege disloyalty to superior officers and failure to make proper return of government property.

Maj. E. B. Bassett, of this city, is appointed judge advocate at the Shelbyville trial.

A trial was held in Louisville yesterday to inquire into the strained relations between Col. Biscoe Hindman and his subordinate officers, who have asked for his resignation.

Capt. Thomas Speed, soldier, lawyer, historian and Clerk of the United States Court, died of cancer of the neck.

SHE CALLED THE POLICE

Denies That He Has Been Married Twenty Times.

New York, Jan. 30.—Johann Hoch, who, it is alleged married twenty women, was arrested at a boarding house tonight by central office detectives. He admitted his identity, although when first arrested gave the name of Henry Bartels. At the Forty-seventh-street station, where he was taken, he said:

"I'm Hoch, and a much abused man."

"How abused?" he was asked. He had nothing to say. He gave his name as John Joseph Adolph Hoch, said he was a machinist, living at 6430 Union avenue, Chicago. He is arrested on a charge of bigamy. Hoch is known under the names of Alfred Hecht, Albert Rusenburg, Joseph Hoch, Jacob Hoch and Adolph Brumm.

Denies Many Marriages.

Hoch said after Marie Fisher died on January 12, he came to New York and had been here over since. Hoch stated that he had not been married twenty times. He said that he had been married only twice and that his first wife is still alive.

Mrs. Katherine Kimmerie, the landlady, said he engaged board on Saturday and had not been in the house twenty minutes when he asked to be allowed to peel some potatoes for her. Today he proposed marriage and she then told the police. She added that the man talked a good deal to her yesterday and became much interested in her, she thought.

Anxious to Talk.

"He was so anxious to talk that I did not know what he was after," said Mrs. Kimmerie, "till all of a sudden he told me that he wanted to marry me. I remembered reading in the papers about that awful man, and it suddenly flashed across my mind that this man who wanted to peel potatoes after being twenty minutes in my house, and wanted to marry me after knowing me a day or so, was the same man they wanted in Chicago, and I ran to the station house as quickly as I could."

Four Business Houses Destroyed At Early Hour Yesterday.

LOSSES $125,000 OR MORE

Dulin, Glenn & Co. The Heaviest Losers—Well Known In This City.

Springfield, Tenn., Feb. 1.—Fire originated in one of the principal business blocks of this place this morning at four o'clock and property to the extent of $125,000 was destroyed. The heaviest losers are:

Dulin, Glenn & Co., dry goods, carpets, clothing, etc.
McFerran & Gill, druggists.
Smith Bros. & Dorris, groceries.
McLee Bros., dry goods.
The loss of Dulin, Glenn & Co., was very heavy, as they carried the largest stock of goods in town. All of the losses are partially covered by insurance.

Mr. Hanson L. Dulin, of the firm of Dulin, Glenn & Co., is a native of this county, and was at one time in business here with C. M. Latham. Mr. Neal Glenn, of the same firm, is a son of Prof. J. J. Glenn, of the Madisonville Graphic.

HOW HE BECAME WEALTHY

Tale of Method by Which Poorest Man in Vermont Town Acquired Riches.

"The richest man in Storkville Center," said Col. Callipier to a New York Sun reporter, "was Sereno Wogsley, and he was not, as you might suppose he would be, its strongest and most forceful citizen, but really its weakest, and I don't believe you could guess in a thousand years how he came by his wealth."

"Mr. Wogsley was a most amiable and kindly man, as gentle a gentleman as you could wish to meet, but he had no backbone; he was weak. He was forever forming good resolves, and forever breaking them; he was a man of good intentions, which he never kept, and so he only just managed to scrape along, and for half of his life he never had a cent."

"You know who it is that has the paving contract in the place that is paved with good intentions? Yes? Well, his supply of material is almost endless, but not quite, and pavements don't last long there, anyway, and he must have not only a great but a constant supply or he is likely to run short. One day when suddenly he found himself in this predicament, shy a few thousand yards, and was casting about in his mind where he could get it and get it right away, he thought of Sereno Wogsley, of Storkville Center, Vt., as a man likely to be able to supply him, and Mr. Wogsley could."

"Commonly our good intentions fade away and disappear and go below as fast as we fail to keep them; but somehow Sereno's had never gone that way. They had never had life enough in them to get there by themselves, or if he had ever intended to ship them he had failed in that intention, too; but, anyhow, he had the accumulated good intentions of many years all still by him, his cellar full, and his attic, and two barns and a woodshed, a great stock; and here was a hurry call for the whole lot, and would Mr. Wogsley name his price and ship without delay. And Mr. Wogsley did both, and got the money; and so it was that about the poorest became the richest man in Storkville Center."

MILK FOR THE FRESHMAN.

Laughable Scene Between Sophomore and First Year Rehearsed in Philadelphia Hotel.

A University of Pennsylvania freshman, followed by a strapping sophomore, strolled into the buffer of a Broad street hotel the other day, says the Philadelphia Record. The freshman slowly walked to the bar and then turned to his companion, who stood several feet behind. "Tell the man what you need," commanded the sophomore, imperatively. The freshman sheepishly said to the bartender: "A glass of milk, please." While a dozen men looked on the freshman drank about half the milk. "Drink the remainder," said the sophomore. The freshman gulped it down. "Now, what should you do to show your respect and admiration for the lords of the sophomore class?" asked the sophomore. "You know what you have been told." "Buy the grand man a very good cigar," the freshman replied. "And what should you smoke?" queried the sophomore. "Oh, nothing," was the hesitating reply. "Smoking isn't good for the health of children. It prevents their mental and physical growth, and then they would never get to be big." The cigar was purchased, and turning to the amused crowd, the freshman solemnly said: "My, but the sophomores are great." Then he wheeled and marched away in front of the sophomore, to another hotel, where the same scene was rehearsed.

JAVA RICE TABLE GENEROUS

Meals in Far-Eastern Country Are Marked by Great Variety of Choice Dishes.

In Java, as in most really warm countries, it is customary to rise early and to take a cup of tea or coffee, together with a biscuit and some fruit, immediately on leaving one's bed. This is followed by a more substantial breakfast; but the first really serious meal is served at half-past 12 o'clock, and is the equivalent of the French "dejeuner a la fourchette" or the Anglo-Indian tiffin. This meal is called rice table—"tystafe!"—from the principal dish, a very elaborate curry, in the preparation of which the Malay cooks are especially skilful.

The peculiarity of the rice table consists in the number and variety of dishes presented. From these dishes the guest has to select the materials which, together with the rice upon the soup plate before him, are to constitute his curry. It is also as well to know beforehand that one is not required to lunch solely on curry, but that the rice table is succeeded by courses of ordinary luncheon dishes. It is a case therefore of "embarras de richesses."

The second danger is that of making up one's curry "not wisely, but too well," and leaving neither appetite nor capacity for the breakfast or for any of the other solid dishes which, subsequently appear, and which under these circumstances only produce a feeling of mingled horror and consternation. It is then that one suddenly realizes that the rice table is merely a sort of tremendous "hors d'oeuvre."

There are two dangers to be avoided. In the first place, it is quite possible, in spite of the number of the dishes presented singly, to say nothing of any of the other solid dishes which, subsequently appear, and which under these circumstances only produce a feeling of mingled horror and consternation. It is then that one suddenly realizes that the rice table is merely a sort of tremendous "hors d'oeuvre."

REVIVE AN OLD CUSTOM.

New Oriental Fashion in Bonnets Dates Back Into Antiquity for Origin.

The latest thing in bonnets for Korean women dates back into antiquity. It consists of a small, bright green dress waist, thrown over the head. The collar-band hangs down across the brow and mouth, and the brilliant red sleeves fall upon each side. The fashion is supposed by some persons to commemorate the defense of the capital, in a long-ago war, by women who disguised themselves as men by wearing their husband's war-coats.

The sleeves have been lined with red from time immemorial, so that when the warrior wipes his bloody sword upon them it might leave no stain. These little jackets are brought home as souvenirs by almost every traveler in Korea. Another popular reminder of the "Hermit Nation," the control of which is now coveted by Russia and Japan, is the small brass bell, from the cross-shaped clapper of which hangs a fish of silver brass. These bells hang in the open air, the slightest breeze stirring the pendent fish, which in turn tinkles the bell.

The Korean cash box is also beginning to ornament American homes. Since some 3,000 Korean cash are required to equal the American dollar, Korean pocket-books take on the size of an English hall chest. The chests are generally decorated with brass corners and ornamental plates, cut in stencil with the design of the swastika, one of the earliest known symbols of the world, which at least 2,500 years ago denoted, as now, long life, happiness and good fortune. The appropriateness of the symbol to a money chest is apparent to even the least symbolically-minded.

A position by an all-round printer, in good country office. Sober, married, 8 years experience. Address: "PRINTERS," Kentuckian office.

The Weather.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 1.—For Kentucky—Snow tonight and probably Thursday. Colder Thursday, with cold wave.

The Senate will vote on the statehood bill next Tuesday.

Banker Beckwith, of Oberlin, O., who was ruined by Mrs. Chadwick's swindling operations, is at death's door from physical and nervous prostration.

The Tennessee Senate has passed the bill prohibiting betting at race tracks in that State. Should the measure pass the lower house it will sound the death knell of horse racing in Tennessee.

W. S. Taylor denies that he ever had any intention of going to Des Moines to conduct his own defense in a moot court. It hardly seemed probable that he would venture out of Indiana.

A South Dakota poet has written a State song and asked the legislature to adopt it officially. He offered to sing it himself, but the offer was declined and the song referred to the Committee on Immigration.

Nathan O. Gray, one of the leading and most influential Democrats in Kuttawa, is a candidate for sheriff of Lyon county.

The man who beats him for the nomination will know he has been in a race. The election comes off March 25.

Warsaw, the capital of Poland, is now the storm center of the troubles in Russia. Several persons were killed and many injured in encounters with troops and police in various parts of Warsaw Tuesday. The general conditions outside of St. Petersburg are unfavorable. The internal disorders are by no means over.

Preparations have been made for a general revival in all the churches of Louisville, which will begin this evening. Among the prominent evangelists to help will be Rev. J. P. Calhoun, Rev. Ferd Schriever and Rev. Arthur I. Smith. The plan is to have meetings all over the city, in all churches, white and colored.

Miss Katie McDaniel, who was denied the right to seek the Republican nomination by the county committee Saturday, is seriously considering the idea of making an independent race for school superintendent, which position she has filled for eight years with great satisfaction to the school interests, regardless of party. She is receiving much encouragement and many promises of support.

$100 Reward, $100

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Rheumatism

Is one of the constitutional diseases. It manifests itself in local aches and pains, inflamed joints and stiff muscles, but it cannot be cured by local applications. It requires constitutional treatment acting through the blood, and the best is a course of the great medicine

LOCKYEAR'S BUSINESS COLLEGE.

Will Hold Reception to Students and Friends Friday Eve.

AT MASONIC HALL.

Addresses By President M. H. Lockyear and Eld H. D. Smith.

There will be a reception to the students of Lockyear's Business College and their friends, at the R. E. Cooper Building, at 7:30 to-morrow night. The College now has 38 pupils and one hundred or more invitations will be issued. About 150 students and guests are expected to be present.

The feature of the evening will be Prof. M. H. Lockyear's lecture on "Sunshine," in which he guarantees "sixty laughs in sixty minutes." Eld H. D. Smith, pastor of the Christian church, will also deliver an address on behalf of the guests.

Refreshments will be served and a good time is promised all who may attend.

Rogers' Raw Deal.

The Courier-Journal's Frankfort correspondent says: "The action of the Republican committee of Christian county in resolving itself into a mass convention and making nominations for representative and other county offices, when a primary was being demanded, was severely criticized by the Republican legislators here over Sunday, several of them declaring that they would advise Representative Rogers of that county, not to consider himself bound by it. Mr. Rogers wanted to come back to the House, in which he has served for three sessions, and thought he had laid his political wires to do so. He found lately that the negroes, who take a hand in the management of Republican affairs in Christian county, had been incensed against him because he, at the last regular session, along with a number of other Republicans, voted for the adoption of the Day measure prohibiting co-education of the races and aimed especially at the Berea College, of Madison county. It has been said by his friends that Rogers may become an independent Republican candidate for re-election as representative.

Public is Aroused.

The public is aroused to a knowledge of the curative virtues of that great medicinal tonic, Electric Bitters, for sick stomach, liver and kidneys. May H. Walters, of 546 St. Clair Ave., Columbus, O., writes: "For several months I was given up to die. I had fever and ague, my nerves were wrecked; I could not sleep, and my stomach was so weak from useless doctors' drugs, that I could not eat. Soon after beginning to take Electric Bitters, I obtained relief, and in a short time I was entirely cured." Guaranteed at R. C. Hardwick's drug store, price 50c.

ADDRESS OF CHAIRMAN F. G. EWING.

Brings Good Cheer to the Tobacco Growers In Their Fight.

THE CONTEST IS WON.

Strong Friends Stand Ready to Back up the Struggling Planters.

(To the Kentuckian.)

Glenraven, Tenn., Jan. 31, 1905. As time wears on, interested interest on the part of those not so seriously affected, and enthusiasm on the part of those who are, increases in the effort the tobacco planter has made to free himself from the control of the large tobacco corporations, which have had in their possession both ends of the situation—the buying and the selling.

In the matter of the planter's effort, the old story reasserts itself, one must achieve certain success to be fully imbued with the idea that success is possible, and that honorable success is laudable. There is a glistening, tingling sensation of delight in a pure-hearted man to feel that he has not been slothful. He has been alert, he has been sagacious, he has won success and others have been benefitted by his success.

It would not take a man of keen perception, in traveling through the tobacco district today, to perceive that ten thousand men had shouldered the responsibility for the success of this movement. This interest has grown so intense that this determination is no longer an effort, but a pleasant duty, which casts a resplendent light ahead of it.

It was in the beginning a doubtful, patriotic few. It is now an army composed entirely of commanders. Every member of this association has his sphere of usefulness and influence, and he is exerting it every day and every hour for the upbuilding of this cause, which means so much to so many.

The census of 1900 shows there are 320,000 inhabitants of the sixteen counties comprising our Association. These are, of course, not all tobacco planters, but as tobacco should be the money crop of the district, because of the soil and climate, all these are more or less interested, and many of them just as much so as the planter himself.

For instance, the merchant at the railroad station, the country doctor and the rural bank. What have they to expect, when tobacco sells below the cost of production? They expect to help; they are helping as interestedly and as earnestly as could be desired. Were it necessary, there is no doubt they would contribute time and money to the planters' success.

The success of the undertaking is phenomenal, and the glory of it is shared, equally, by every honest heart, which proclaims citizenship, the right to manage one's own affairs and the courage to sustain this right.

This is the planter's march of progress. If, from his amiability, he has too long ignored his possibilities, he is now thoroughly awake to them, and is marching forward with a steady and determined stride.

This organization is but four months old, and doubtless could enroll 50,000 active supporters, not supernumerated and weak-kneed soldiers, but valiant and strong. Could Alexander, or Frederick the Great, or the mighty Napoleon have enlisted such an army in such a short time? No, and the explanation is the difference between an army of invasion and an army of protection.

The fight of the Association has simply been one of protection. The unquestionable rights of the planter have been trampled in the mire, dragged hither and thither, to and fro, and from bad to worse, until at last his manhood forbade longer toleration of it. Strong friends have presented themselves from every source, and the trend of the market has already changed.

Buyers, not representing these immense corporations, are much pleased at the prospect of a restoration of a foreign market, and everything brightens as the days go by. The great desire of this Association has been that the greatest conservatism should characterize its conduct of this affair, that we should be on the most friendly terms, personally, with those we are opposing in a business way, and it is with regret that we are called upon to correct misrepresentations.

Strenuous efforts have been made to break through our lines, all sorts of inducements have been made by buyers to secure tobacco, and during this time reports were falsely circulated that in certain sections tobacco was being sold by members of the Association. A lamentable fact, one calculated to lower one's estimate of mankind in general, is that the buyers, who were most anxious for the success of the Association, at the beginning, maybe parties to its origin and frame-work, are those who have since proven its enemies. But thanks to a magnificent organization, an Executive Committee above the average, of a directory of men in the districts, and an honest effort upon the part of every member to do his full duty, we could hope for no brighter prospect, than that ahead of us.

I ask all our members to treat with the contempt they deserve, reports and opinions of an unscrupulous buyer, who has plundered them in the past and is disgruntled because he cannot again.

Buyers are offering 10 cents for tobacco now, they bought last year at 5 cents. This difference would mean four million dollars to us. We will simply say that this tobacco is for sale. Will these corporations "come over" and pay the price under the rule of the Association?

When a thing must be done, it had best be done gracefully. We would certainly accord gentlemen representing these corporations the consideration they deserve.

FEBRUARY FORECASTS.

Cold Waves and Snow Storms on Calendar.

Rev. Irl. R. Hicks, in February Word and Works, gives a forecast of the weather to be expected during the month. The following is a summary of the conditions, as mapped out: The first regular storm period for the month is central on the 3rd, covering the 1st to the 6th. Warmer, with rain, turning to snow, followed by change to much colder. By 8th to the 10th return to cloudiness and rain and snow. The third storm period of the month extends from the 12th to the 16th. Look for rains, turning to snow and sleet, followed by a cold wave. About the 19th to the 22nd look for active winter storms—lightning and thunder southward. Change to much colder will follow closely, with blizzardous conditions North and West. The last storm period of the month includes the last three days of February and runs into March. Look for much rain to the South and snow to the North during this period, winding up with very cold weather for the season. By the close of February, conflicts between boreal and equinoctial forces naturally produce weather "irritations," constantly inducing spits and squalls of rain and snow. Such tendencies will be decidedly increased during the last four days of the month. The barometer will fall, and wide storm areas of rain and snow will make transit over the country during the 26th, 27th and 28th. While these storms are still in progress in central and Eastern sections, high barometer and clearing, cold weather will be pressed on the rear out of the West and North. Changes in temperature and downpours of rain are sure to precipitate danger in many localities.

In Dreamland.

In Dreamland poverty pinches not.

Bar riches rare are mine;

And my garments few, of sober hue.

Are exchanged for raiment fine.

In Dreamland friends are always true,

Nor pain one by their faithlessness;

Nether do I for pardon sue.

For words or deeds of ruthlessness.

In Dreamland I'm not of the common herd,

With whom here my lot is cast,

But I step along with the haughty throng,

And with the mighty ones am class'd.

In Dreamland I write sonnets rare,

Which publishers eagerly buy;

And such is the fame of my wide known name,

I have no need my wares to cry.

In Dreamland my hair grows never gray,

Nor wrinkles mar my brow,

And I keep the face of my youthful grace,

Nor feel the approach of age as now.

In Dreamland I visit countries rare

And old world cities see;

For east nor West is home the best,

For I would I with the homelocks be.

In Dreamland many friends are there,

Those of far off other days,

And I ponder the grace of each vanished face,

And recall their half-forgotten ways.

NERVE FAILS

A Vermont Sheriff Who Is to Hang a Woman.

Windsor, Vt., Jan. 31.—Sheriff Peck has wilted at the prospect of hanging Mary Rogers Friday for the murder of her husband, and one of the deputies named Lovell, who has officiated at nine hangings, will execute the murders.

Volumes of letters threatening the life of Sheriff Peck have been received. A petition has been presented to the supreme court asking for a stay pending the examination of newly discovered evidence touching upon the alleged long line of ancestors of the woman and her own mentality. This is the last chance for the woman who murdered her husband in cold blood. Her family record is one of vice, squalor and crime for generations.

SEVERAL CHANGES

Caused by a Promotion in the Crescent Mill.

Mr. Chas. L. Daniel, cashier of the L. & N. Railroad, has resigned his position and accepted a place as secretary and treasurer of the Crescent Milling Co. He succeeds Mr. R. A. Rogers, who will go on the road in a traveling position. His position vacated in the railroad office has been filled by the promotion of Shelby Peace, of the clerical force. Mr. Daniel has been with the L. & N. since he was a small boy and made the company an efficient employee in every place he has filled for the last ten years. His successor is a very capable young man, who has learned the railroad business under Mr. Daniel and who is well qualified for his new duties.

APPLICATIONS CALORE FOR MEMBERSHIP.

Rush of New Applicants For Membership in Baldheaded Club.

PEMBROKE MAN LET IN.

The Banquet Will be Held Some Suitable Time Next Month.

NOTHING was talked of Saturday night when the Baldheaded Club met except the approaching banquet to be given by President Woodriddle. Everybody evinced the liveliest interest and there was hardly a vacant seat to be found. Even the country members braved the threatened fury of the coming snowstorm and showed up with appetites whetted for the $4 feast.

Col. Harvey Smith, "Wildcat Ed" Jones, Dan Claggett and John Gregory, from away down at Howell, were on hand ready to gallop with the gang.

Col. Geo. E. Gary wired Friday from down in Florida that he had started home and wouldn't miss the function for $25. He got in just before the meeting adjourned and said he left Col. John B. Trice in Florida having a duck fight every hour for fear he wouldn't get back in time.

Col. E. B. McCormick, of Owensboro, wrote President Woodriddle to order $4 worth for him, as he would see what was under one of the banquet covers.

Col. Bill Howell telephoned from Paducah that he was at work on the floor plans and front elevation of his speech and would pull off a response that would knock the socks off Chancey Depew's best efforts and would be worth the whole price of admission.

Many of the other Colonels who do not always attend were present with a look of expectancy on their faces.

Col. J. O. Cooper, Col. E. L. Foulks and Col. F. J. Brownell were hobnobbing together over in the Methodist corner. Col. Cooper said he would be there to hear Bro. Bassett on "The Charge at Winesap Hill." The government only last week paid a bill of $5,000 for apples and chickens lost in that furious charge during the war at West Point and he had a curiosity to hear what the man that led the charge had to say about it.

As soon as things quieted down a little, applications for membership began to pour in.

Col. Green Champin proposed Mr. Webster C. Bell for membership and his application went to the Committee on Circular Clearings.

Col. Sam Buckner proposed Capt. Cincinnati Douglas Bell. Referred to Committee on Sparse Plummage.

Col. Henry Abernathy brought in the petitions of Mr. Carden S. Coleman, of Gracey, and Mr. Philander B. Pendleton of Pembroke. Both petitions were referred to the committee on Barren Landscapes.

The committees retired and soon brought in favorable reports on all of the applications and the new members, who were waiting outside, were brought in and given the degree of Colonel.

Col. Pendleton said he had a friend whom he would like to propose for membership, who was bald but wore a wig; and asked what the constitution and by-laws provided in such cases.

President Woodriddle replied that the applicant would be black-balled and the member proposing him would be expelled. No man was wanted in the Baldheaded Club who was ashamed of being bald.

His head should be held as high as possible and worn as a conquering hero would wear a badge of honor.

Col. Pendleton said that President's circumspection was equalled only by his anagony.

Col. A. W. Fyfe arose to a question of personal privilege and explained that the Kentuckian named Piles who was elected to the U. S. Senate from Washington last week was some other man than himself. Unlike the new Senator, he had never had any itching for office.

Col. L. W. Whitlow, from the Banquet Committee, reported that everything was moving along smoothly and he thought he would be ready to announce the date by the next meeting. Out of compliment to the Colonels, most of whom had only a meagre and superficial knowledge of hair, he intended to serve Belgian Hare as one of the meats. It would not be served in the butter, but as a separate course.

Before adjournment President Woodriddle read a telegram from Col. M. H. Clark, of Clarksville, congratulating him on his election and expressing regret that he himself was not bald, in order that he might be qualified for membership in the Club.

WOMAN HOODWINKS JURIES

English Publication Tells of Bad Acts of American Lady Who Deceived Railroads.

Cassie's Journal relates a story of an American woman who was an adept in her profession. Gifted with remarkable powers of counterfeiting sickness and with sublime audacity, an American woman has for years past, in company with a male sharper, defrauded railway and tramway companies by representing herself as one of the injured in any accident of which she heard or read.

Time after time she appeared in court, pallid, beswathed in bandages, and attended by sympathetic friends (mainly confederates). The feelings of the jury were worked upon, and they invariably gave her substantial damages.

So successful were her frauds that they inspired an over confidence that led to her undoing.

On one occasion, after obtaining damages for some imaginary injury, she quitted her "sick bed" and went shopping. Hardly had she departed when a doctor representing the victimized company, called to see her. After a hasty consultation amongst her malcontents, one of them retired to her mistress's bed to personate the sick woman, and the doctor was admitted.

In making out his report he referred to the patient as a colored woman. The description naturally challenged inquiry, and the conspirators have now been brought to justice.

PAID $1,300

For Injuries In a Recent Railroad Accident.

Mr. J. C. Adcock, who was injured by an L. & N. train at the Acme Mills crossing some months ago, has compromised with the road without litigation.

Mr. Adcock's horse was killed, his buggy demolished and he was carried some distance on the pilot, having a very narrow escape. The company has paid him, it is said, $1,300 in full satisfaction, $300 for his horse and buggy and $1,000 for damages sustained.

Catholic Feast Days.

To-day, Feb. 2, is the feast of Purification, the day on which candles, to be used in the church services throughout the year, are blessed.

To-morrow will be the feast of St. Blaise, on which day occurs the blessing of the throats as protection from serious illness of that part of the body during the year.

Many Speeches.

The As You Like It Club's banquet at Hotel Latham to-morrow night will be a most brilliant event. The toast list will include speeches by Mr. J. W. Downer, Dr. R. L. Woodard, Mr. Wallace Kelly, Dr. C. H. Tandy, Mr. John Stites and Mr. H. H. Abernathy.

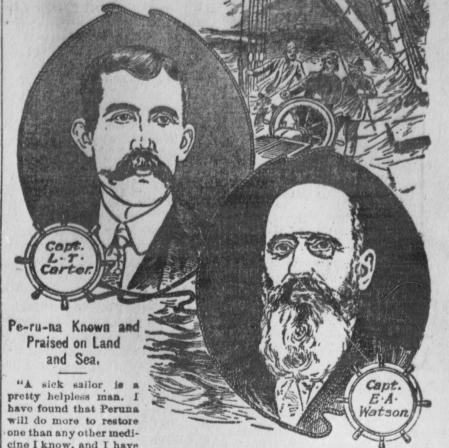

The Hargises this time seem to be up against it good and strong. Judge Benton has ordered their arrest for spiriting away witnesses in the Marcum damage case, recently tried at Winchester, in which judgment was given against Judge Hargis for $8,000. Three counties are now after them.

"Give me my compass and Peru-na and I will steer clear of wrecks of all kinds and land in port safe and with vessel and men."—Capt. L. T. Carter, 135 10th Avenue, Pensacola, Florida.

Capt. E. A. Watson, M. E., 48 Elizabeth street, Ottawa, Ont., writes: "Peru-na has my heartiest endorsement. If there is any place that you are helpless when ill it is on board a steamer, at sea, miles away from any assistance. Sometimes two or three of my men would be sick at one time and seriously cripple the force, but since we have learned of the value of Peru-na, by using a few doses they recuperate very quickly. We use it for colds, lung trouble and kidney diseases, and have also found it very fine for a gripper."

"Peru-na is always one of the most important supplies of my steamer."—E. A. Watson.

With a bottle of Peru-na aboard sailors have a remedy on which they can rely.

Commodore E. S. Navy.

Commodore Somerville Nicholson, of the United States Navy, in a letter from 1837 R St., N. W., Washington, D. C., says:

"I unhesitatingly recommend Peru-na to all persons suffering from catarrh."—S. Nicholson.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peru-na, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Kentucky. We use it for colds, lung trouble and kidney diseases, and have also found it very fine for a gripper."

THE AMERICAN MONTHLY REVIEW OF REVIEWS

The more Magazines there are, the more Indispensable is The Review of Reviews

"Indispensable." "The one magazine I feel I must take." "The world under a field-glass." "An education in public affairs and current literature."—these are some of the phrases now heard from those who read the Review of Reviews. The more magazines there are, the more necessary is the Review of Reviews, because it brings together the best that is in all the most important monthlies of the world. Such is the food of periodical literature that nowadays people say that the only way to keep up with it is to read the Review of Reviews. Entirely over and above this reviewing section, it has more original matter and illustrations than most magazines, and the most timely and important articles printed in any month.

Probably the most useful section of all is Dr. Albert Shaw's illustrated "Progress of the World," where public events and issues are authoritatively and lucidly explained in every issue. Many a subscriber writes, "This department alone is worth more than the price of the magazine." The unique cartoon department, depicting current history in caricature, is another favorite. The Review of Reviews covers life continents, and yet is American, first and foremost. Men in public life, the members of Congress, professional men, and the great captains of industry who must keep up with the times, intelligent men and women all over America, have decided that it is "indispensable."

SING TO RECALL COURAGE.

Often the Case with a Few Bars of Music—Air of "Bedelia" Said to Banish Fear.

There are times when the mind must be called away from present danger of anxiety, and not allowed even to contemplate the serious and deeper aspects of an emergency. The San Francisco Call gives an instance of good sense and pluck on the part of a young lady who was shipwrecked. A few months ago a most gallant fight for life in a storm at sea took place in the Pacific.

When the Queen, with 200 souls aboard, was about 30 miles off Tillamook, fire was discovered in the after cabin. A heavy gale was blowing at the time, and the situation seemed hopeless. Capt. Cousens first put the women and children, and all other passengers who were not able to assist in fighting fire, into lifeboats and launched them in charge of experienced men. These boats remained under the lee of the blazing steamship until those on board had conquered the flames.

When the lifeboats were launched that dark and stormy morning, the women and children were terrorized in the face of the threatening tragedy. In one boat a voice was lifted in prayer, and the sound of weeping was heard above the roar of the waters. Some one raised the song, "Near My God to Thee," and with trembling lips the fear-dazed company joined. The prayer and the hymn combined to deepen the morbid gloom, and the last note of the sacred song died in a chorus of sobs.

Then, strong and clear, a cheery voice made all sit up and listen. "What is the matter with you people?" it said. "We're not going to die. The fire is growing smaller. We shall all be in our bunks in an hour. If you must sing, sing 'Bedelia.'"

The young woman then started the jaunty popular song, and in a few moments, to the amazement of themselves and the wonder of the workers aboard the steamer, everyone in the boats was singing "Bedelia."

From that it was an easy step to other airs of a lively nature, and long before the boats were recalled their occupants were almost enjoying their storm situation.

The Pacific Steamship company decorated with gold and silver medals the captain and men who risked their lives to save the ship and passengers. They also presented a token to the brave singer. On it is engraved: "For Singing 'Bedelia.'"

BARELY MISSED HEAVEN.
Son of Erin Would Have Gone Through the Roof If Elevator Had Not Stopped.

The Irishman who went up in the hotel lift without knowing what it did not recover easily from the surprise. He relates the story in Smith's Weekly:

"I went to the hotel, and says I: 'Is Mister Smith in?'"

"'Yes,' says the man with the sojer cap. 'Will yez step in?'"

"'So I steps into the closet, and all of a sudden he pulls the rope, and—it's the truth I'm telling yez—the walls of the building began running down to the cellar."

"'Och, murder!' says I. 'What'll become of Bridget and the children, which was left below there?'"

"'Says the sojer-cap man: 'Be aisy, sorr; they'll be all right when yez come down.'"

"'Come down, is it?' says I. 'And it is no closet at all, but a haythensian balloon that yez got me in!'"

"'And wid that the walls stood stock still, and he opened the door, and there I was with the roof just over my head, and begorra, that's what saved me from goin' up to the hevins entirely!'"

Thrones of Europe.
There are 15 thrones in Europe, and eight now promise to pass from father to son. The latter are those of Great Britain, Germany, Denmark, Portugal, Norway and Sweden, Bulgaria, Russia and Italy. The sultan may be succeeded by a brother and the king of Spain by a sister. The emperor of Austria, the king of the Belgians and the king of Roumania look to nephews, while the ruler of Holland has no visible successor at present.

MORE EVIDENCE.

Is Coming in Rapidly in Hopkinsville.

Evidence on the following subject will prove of interest to every Hopkinsville reader. So many people go through the same experience daily. This public statement should be read positive to every wavering doubter. Read it carefully.

Wm. O. Davis, cooper, of No. 603 North Main street, says: "A dull bearing across my kidneys and through the small of my back made it so painful for me to stoop or lift anything that I was unable to do any work or to have any pleasure. Whenever I took cold, I kept on my back and at night bothered me a great deal while lying in bed. Sharp twinges often kept me awake for hours and in the morning arose feeling tired and devoid of all energy and ambition. The condition of my back was especially annoying and distressing at night. I doctor and used many remedies until I became discouraged for instead of getting better I seemed to grow worse. Finally I happened to read an advertisement of Doan's Kidney Pills and as they were highly recommended by people near by I could not help but believe it. I bought a good remedy. I got a box at Thomas & Travern's drug store and after using them a few days I could see a decided improvement. I kept on with the treatment and the pains in my back left me entirely and the action of the kidneys was restored to normal and healthy condition."

E. T. Lucas, Wingo, Ky., writes, April 25th, 1902: "For 10 to 12 years I had been afflicted with a malady known as the 'itch.' Itching was most unbearable; I had tried for years to find relief, having tried all remedies I could hear of, besides a number of doctors. I was told that one single application of Ballard's Snow Lintment cured me completely and permanently. Since then have used the lintment on two separate occasions for ring worm and it cured completely. 25c. 50c and $1.00 bottle. Sold by R. C. Hardwick."

DEVELOPMENT IN THE NAVY

Increase of Strength of United States on High Seas Is Almost Phenomenal.

Mr. Paul Morton, the new secretary of the navy, speaks thus of the present condition of the United States navy:

"The most notable fact in connection with the work of the navy for 1904 is the approach to completion of a considerable number of most important additions to the strength of the United States on the sea. The second most prominent fact has been the improvement in marksmanship of the vessels of the navy and the progress made in the development of explosives and of devices for increasing the accuracy of gunfire. In addition, a material advancement has been made in the development of appliances increasing the safety with which the high powers developed in modern ordnance can be utilized."

"On the point of progress in the construction of vessels for the new navy gratifying progress is shown as between the January report and that of October. In the latter report, besides the fact of the completion of the Missouri, the Ohio appears as practically completed, and the armored cruisers Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Colorado and Maryland have reached a state of over 90 per cent. of completion, 30 per cent. of their construction having been done during the year. Four protected cruisers have been added to the strength of the United States in this class, and the fifth of the type is approaching serviceable condition. The year has witnessed a large number of launches, representing a total of war vessel tonnage such has never been put in the water during a corresponding period in the history of the United States, and including two vessels, the Connecticut and the Louisiana, which on completion will be the largest and most powerful vessels of war ever constructed in the United States, and which in type, size and probable strength and efficiency compare most favorably with the best naval construction of the entire world."

KILLED CHINK; DISCHARGED

Local Character in Texas Town Given Release Because Oriental "Ain't a Human."

"Private" John Allen has a fond of stories illustrating the peculiar brand of justice that used to be meted out at Langtry, Texas, by the celebrated Squire Roy Bean.

According to Collier's, Squire Bean once sat in judgment in the matter of the killing at Langtry of a Chinaman by a local character named Jim Anderson.

With great solemnity Bean listened to the evidence offered, of which no small part was contributed by Anderson himself. Bean had at various times during the proceedings consulted a book before him. When he spoke, it was somewhat as follows:

"This here book, which is a Texas law book, says that homicide is the killing of a human—male or female. Furthermore, it appears from the book that there's various sorts of homicide—murder, manslaughter, plain homicide, negligent homicide, justifiable homicide and praiseworthy homicide. The prisoner, as I said, on the condition he pays for the costs and has the chink buried."

Wardrobe of Savage Women.
The women of savage tribes have not infrequently a wardrobe consisting of furs which would be worth from $5,000 to $10,000.

Grundenman, the explorer, relates how one fair Greenlander wore a dress of sealskin with a hood of that costly fur, the silver fox. The garment was lined with fur of the young seal otter, and there was a fringe of wolverine tails. About $600 is probably the average worth of the dress of Indian women on the Columbia and Fraser rivers.

Unreasonable.
It's a poor kind of affection for a creed that prevents its correction.—Chicago Tribune.

FATAL ACCIDENT.

Fireman E. E. Arrington
Killed at Alexandria, Ky.

A fatal accident occurred Sunday night at Alexandria, Ky., in which Fireman E. E. Arrington, of Moscow, Ky., was instantly killed. Mr. Arrington, on a south-bound freight train, was shoveling coal into the fire box and stood directly over where the engine and tender were coupled together. Suddenly, without the least warning, the coupling broke and the engine leaped away from the tender and the balance of train, throwing Mr. Arrington beneath the wheels and killing him instantly.

PERSONAL GOSSIP.

Mrs. Boyd, of Paducah, is visiting her sister, Mrs. J. E. Cooper.

Miss Mollie Kennedy has returned from a visit of several weeks to relatives in Mayfield.

Mrs. Quinn Moore, of Birmingham, Ala., is visiting Mrs. Claud Sisk.

Mrs. John D. Thompson is quite ill, and her condition shows no improvement.

Miss Mildred Wharton was called to Cadiz yesterday by the serious illness of her niece, Miss Susie Cooper.

Mrs. S. A. Chastain has gone to Mississippi to join her husband and they will not return here until spring.

The condition of Mr. H. H. Sibley, who has been quite ill at his home in South Christian for some time, is reported much better.

Mr. Chas. Hayden, of this city, who had been in a Paducah studio for some time, resigned this week, and left at once for Rochester, N. Y., where he accepted a position as traveling salesman for a kodak company of that place.

TWO BIG COAL DEALS CLOSED.

L. Haydon, of Hopkinsville, and Wm. Lynch, of Dawson, Make the Sales.

Last week Hon. Wm. Lynch, of Dawson Springs, sold to an Eastern coal company, from Maryland, the old Clifton coal property at Mannington, Ky., on the L. & N. R. R., North of Empire, containing 1,000 acres, for $35,000. It is said the Maryland company holds the property at a valuation of $100,000, and will operate a large coal and coke plant at Mannington.

Mr. L. Haydon, of this city, sold this land to Mr. Lynch a few months ago. One year ago Mr. Haydon offered this property to Hopkinsville people for $12,000, they refused to take it, and lost $23,000 in one year by turning it down.

At the rate coal land is being bought in Hopkins and Christian counties, it will all be sold this year.

If the stock offered Hopkinsville and Christian county people by the Terry Coal Company is not taken by the home folks, and a majority of the stock goes to Eastern capitalists, the last available coal lands in Christian county will be gone. The wagon trade of the county from mines will then be shut out, and coal in this county will go to fifteen cents per bushel and cost the people of Hopkinsville and Christian county $40,000 more money each year than it now costs them. It will then be too late and the people will be forced to pay prices asked for coal.

Every housekeeper in the county is personally interested in this matter and all should own a block of this stock and co-operate with this company in the interest of their own homes.

SPARKLER LIFTED.

Mr. Geo. E. Gary Touched By a Florida Pickpocket.

Mr. Geo. E. Gary, who returned from Florida this week, was relieved of his fine diamond pin in the crowded depot at Jacksonville, Fla., by some light-fingered pickpocket. It was a very fine stone, worth several hundred dollars and was highly prized by Mr. Gary. No clue was found to the thief, who escaped with his booty. Jacksonville is noted for its pickpockets, who prey upon tourists from the North. Some years ago a National Editorial Association encountered a swarm of them in the same depot where Mr. Gary was robbed, and several editors were relieved of valuables.

PROF. D. M. QUARLES,

Formerly of This County,
Dies in Clarksville.

Prof. Duncan M. Quarles, formerly of Christian county, died in Clarksville Monday of pneumonia. He was seventy-one years old and leaves a family.

Prof. Quarles, for several years, resided near Garrettsburg, and taught school in the Howell neighborhood, but moved to Clarksville about fifteen years ago.

He was born in Louisiana county, Va., and married Miss Martha P. Spotswood, of Orange county, in the same state. When quite young, he entered the University of Virginia, from which famous institution he was graduated with honors.

Prof. Quarles was a prominent Mason. He was known far and wide as an educator of rare ability and made a host of friends in Christian during his residence in the county.

A Touching Story

Is the saving from death of the baby girl of Geo. A. Eyer, Cumberland, Md. He writes: "At the age of 11 months, our little girl was in declining health, with serious throat trouble, and two physicians gave her up. We were almost in despair, when we resolved to try Dr. King's New Discovery, for consumption, coughs and colds. The first bottle gave relief; after taking four bottles she was cured, and is now in perfect health." Never fails to relieve and cure a cough or cold. MURDER CASE

CONTINUED

AT CADIZ.

Large Number of Witnesses
Summoned, But Few of Them on Hand.

VENIRE DISCHARGED.

Others Under Indictment

May be Tried at the Present Term.

The case of Lawrence Willis, charged with the murder of his uncle, Lieut. W. B. Johnston, at Canton, March 1, 1903, was called at Cadiz Monday and continued until the next term of court. There are a large number of witnesses in the case but few of them were present when the list was called, hence the continuance.

A special venire of seventy-five men from this county had been summoned, from which to select a jury, and sixty-five of the number were present. They were discharged in time to return home the same afternoon.

The other parties under indictment in connection with the assassination may be tried at the present term. Court will be in session a month.

Willis had been out on bond for several months. After the continuance was granted his bond was renewed and he returned home. He is a young man of about twenty-four years. He belongs to an educated family and is well connected.

WARM WELCOME

Always Awaits Return of Lovett's Boston Stars.

Lovett's Boston Stars will appear at the Tabernacle next Saturday night in the regular Tabernacle course. This will be a very high-class entertainment. There will not be a weak number on the program and those expecting a treat will not be disappointed, as they always uphold their reputation as the "Recall Company." We submit the following comments:

Canal Dover (O.) Herald, Feb. 10, 1904—As good as last year. Received encore after encore. We truly hope this company will be recalled for next year.

Bell and Barr, Washington, D. C., Dec. 5, 1903—It gives us pleasure to say that Lovett's Boston Stars recently opened a number of our Star Courses, and in every case they were well received and delighted the large audiences that greeted them. Unquestionably they are far above the average concert company and will receive a warm welcome on their return.

Cured of Backache.

Member of the Business Men's League and one of the best known business men in St. Louis, Mo. Read what Mr. Wand has to say about Dr. Fenner's Kidney and Backache Cure: "I know what it is to be afflicted with backache and I sympathize with fellow sufferers. After swallowing various and frequent, nauseating doses of this and that preparation I decided that I try Fenner's Kidney and Backache Cure. It did not rid me of those backaches it at least would not do me any harm and I procured a bottle.

"Now the first bottle didn't stop those aching backaches, but it did afford me great relief. The second bottle, however, did effectually put an end to those aching backaches. Occasionally they returned when strenuous business affairs exhausted the physical forces, but a dose or two of Dr. Fenner's Cure gave instant relief.
